A PROCESSION IN IRELAND FIRED UPON ORDER RESTORED BY THE MILITARY-TWO PER-SONS SHOT.

LONDONDERRY, Nov. 1 .- A number of National-1sts from Donegal arrived here this morning and assembled at the railway station to meet the Lord Mayor of Dublin. The authorities stationed bodies dicemen along the streets through which the Lord Mayor passed. A troop of Lancers was present to prevent any collision between the Orangemen and the Nationalists. The seizure by the Orangemen of the City Hall in order to prevent the Lord Mayor from delivering a lecture on the franchise created intense excitement here. Some of the Orangemen stationed themselves upon the roof of the building and waved their yellow sashes. Several of them, with sponge-rods belonging to cannon, went inside the building. The Corporation rescinded its resolution to rent the hall for the delivery of a lecture by the Lord Mayor.

Upon the arrival of the Lord Mayor, he was placed in a wagonette and driven through the city. The gion escorting him carried green banners and the bands played Irish national airs. While the procession was passing the City Hall the Orange-procession was passing the City Hall the Orangemen congregated there fired upon it and threw slates from the windows and roof of the building. A man was shot in the face and a boy received a bullet in one of his eyes. The man is dying and his deposition has been taken.

The Nationalist procession dispersed after the Lord Mayor entered Roddy's Hotel, but an angry crowd afterward congregated around the City Hall, which they stoned, breaking its windows. The police then charged the mob and cleared the streets. The military were called out to assist in restoring order. Bodies of lancers paraded the main streets. Intense anxiety prevails in all circles throughout the city. The Orangemen planted a Union Jack on the roof of the City Hall. They subsequently withdrew from its vicinity. The Mayor of Londonderry issued a proclamation appealing to the people to refrain from violence and retailation.

The Lord Mayor delivered his lecture this evening at the National Institute. One Orangeman has been arrested charged with shooting the man and boy.

FRANCE, CHINA AND ENGLAND. LONDON, Nov. 1 .- A Paris dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says that a war between France and China would so seriously imperil British interests that it is feared that England would intervene in the event of the outbreak of hostilities. France will not provoke a rupture with China, but negotiations between the two Governments will not be renewed until the French are firmly seated in Tonquin. M. Macartney, secretary of the Chinese Legation, will start for London to-night.

The Marquis Tseng, the Chinese Ambassador, in reply to the assertion of M. Tricou, the French agent to China, that Li Hung Chang had disavowed the policy pursued by the Marquis Tseng upon the Tenquin question, says: "I have the same opinions as Li Hung Chang,"

The Paris correspondent of Reuter's Telegram Company says he has received information from an authentic source that the Black Flags occupy Sontay, and that the Chinese possess Bac-Ninh. If, therefore, the French attack the latter place war therefore, the French attack the latter place war with China will be inevitable.

The Marquis Tseng, m an interview, intimated to-day that M. Tricou's telegram, which was opportune for the Ferry Government, was the result of a suggestion telegraphed from Paris.

"A disavowal, such as M. Tricou mentions," he says, "was impossible, I merely fulfilled instructions emanating from the same Government which directs Li Hung Chang, who is related to me and who furthermore, has always related to me, and who, furthermore, has always held opinions similar to myself. He was always my good friend."

Paris, Nov. 1 .- The Voltaire expresses the belief that M. Challemel-Lacour, Minister of Foreign Affairs, will soon retire on the ground of ill-health Prime Minister Ferry will then take charge of the Foreign portfolio. It is reported that mediation has again been suggested, but that neither Govern-ment is disposed to accept it. M. Waddington, the French Ambassador to England, will return from re to London on Monday.

MARSHILLES, Nov. 1 .- Great activity prevails in the argenals at Toulon. Fresh transports have been ordered to be put in readiness for use.

London, Nov. 2 .- The Daily Telegraph this morning says it is enabled to state that the view of the Chinese Embassy is that Wednesday's vote in the French Chamber, expressing confidence in the Menistry, is the first step toward war, and that if M. Ferry asks for a grant of money to dispatch reinforcements to Tonquin China will certainly enter Tonquin forthwith.

THE LONDON EXPLOSIONS.

LONDON, Nov. 1 .- Major Majendie, of the Board of Trade, who has examined the scene of the explosion of Tuesday evening, at the Praed-st. station, states that every sign confirms his belief that nitro glycerine was the explosive used.

DUBLIN, Nov. 1 .- The United Ireland (the National League organ) pronounces the authors of the explosions in London to be idiots. The Freeman's Journal protests anish trible leng hastily accused of being the authors of these outrages. The Irish Times asks why the English Government does not vigorously remonstrate with Fresident Arthur against the dynamite conspiracy of which New-York is the source.

MORRIS RAUGER'S FAILURE. LIVERPOOL, Nov. 1 .- Morris Rauger, in his petition for liquidation, states that his liabilities are £1,089,000 and his assets £350,000.

There is an easier feeling in the cotton market and it is the general opinion that the crisis has culminated. The Licerpool Post says that Mr. Rauger speculated on the New-York Cotton Exchange and was unfortunate there. LONDON, Nov. 1 .- The Times attributes the failure to Rauger's grossly reckless speculation in England, America and on the continent. It says he aimed to control the cetton exchanges of the world and had the help of wealthy houses in London, New-York and Hamburz. The effect of the failures in Liverpool will be local. The London money market is not affected by them. There probably will be an increased demand for cotton, followed

DISASTROUS EFFECT OF A SERMON ON A DRUGGIST'S

INT TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE. CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 1 .- "Frank" E. Bronson has been a leading druggist of Oberlin for several years. When the temperance war broke out in that village some time ago he was charged with selling liquor. In January, 1882, the Rev. James Brand, pastor of the Congregational Church said of Bronson in his sermon: Congregational Church said of Bronson in his sermon:

The shadows of death are the golden haze which Heaven's light makes when it meets the earth and mingles with its shadows. But to thee [meaning Bronson, it is alleged], there shall be shadows full of phantom shapes. Images of terror in the future shall dimly rise and beekon thee. The ghastly deeds of the past shall stretch out their skinup hands and push thee. Thou shalt not die unattended. Despair shall seize thee, agong shall tender to thy parched lips her flery cup, remorse shall feel for thy heart and rend it open. Good men shall hreathe freer at thy death, and utter thanksgiving when thou art gone. Men shall place thy grave-stone as a monument and a testimony that a plague is stayed, and as borne on the blast thy guilty spirit whistles toward the gates of Heil, the bideous shrieks of those whom thou hast destroyed shall pierce thee, Hell's first welcome.

$30,000 damages, and the trial of the case was bogun to day in the Common Pleas Court in this city. Bronson claims that he kept a drug store and only sold spirituous liquors for mechanical and medicinal purposes. The case has created a sensation at Oberlin.

A UNIQUE LAND DAMAGES CASE.

BRIDGE BUILDERS AT NIAGARA FALLS CONFRONTED WITH AN ODD CLAIM.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] LOCKPORT, N. Y., Nov. 1 .- A railroad case, involving a legal question of interest to all railroad managers, is being sharply contested here. John E. Pound, of this city, Hans Netison and Benjamin Flagler, of Niagara Falls, are commissioners appointed by Judge Haight, of the Supreme Court, to appraise certain property belonging to the Witmer estate, on the American bank of the Niara ra River. The property is that upon which the approaches and abutments to the new cantilever bridge as ouilt. This property the Cauada Southern road could not purchase at satisfactory prices, and to avoid delay it went on to the premises and begun operations, leaving litiga-tion to follow afterward. They built the costly abutments, pers and approaches to the celebrated new bridge on this property, at an expense of about $75,000 or $100,000, and now meet with unexpected opposition of formidable proportions. The Witners chalm that the railroad company are trespassers, and therefore that in the appraisal they are entitled not only to the full value of the land, but also to the increased value it has ac-quired by the extensive operations of the bridge builders thereon, and that all said improvements now in fact be-long to them, and not to the railroad company.

They also found indictments against Managing Editor Moore of The ost-Discatch, and Florence White, his reporter, for alleged removal of court records, which en-abled their newspaper to publish in full the testimony which led the last Grand Jury to report that a gamblers' ring existed here, and to indict one of its members for forgery and bribery.

INDICIED FOR A HORRIBLE MURDER.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE. TOLEDO, Nov. 1.—Wesley Johnson, the young man who is under arrest for the alleged murder of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Williams, living near Wauseon, a few nights ago, has been indicted by the Grand Jury for murder in the first degree. It was two days and nights after the murder before it was discovered; and during that entire time a little six weeks' old babe lay in one of the beds, the sole living creature in the house, crying itself nearly to death and sucking its fingers until the blood oozed out of them to appease its hunger. The chain of circumstantial evidence is now regarded as terribly complete. The clothes dence is now regarded as terribly complete. The clothes of the accused have been found with blood on them in numerous places. There are cuts in his clothing made doubtiess by a penknife, which was found open in the hands of the murdered woman. It is supposed that she used the knife in defence of her life. Johnson's alleged wife swears that Johnson threatenant to kill her if she did not keep his company and assent to his statement that she was his wife. She says also that she knows enough to hang him outside of the Williams murder, and will appear against him at the trial.

THE PERTH AMLOY CORPSES BURIED.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] PERTH AMBOY, Nov. 1 .- Interest in the two vateries which have occupied the attention of the peohas been made in disclosing the manner in which the unknown woman found in the woods, and the saflor, or ook, of the schooner Ben Brandreih, found under the coal docks, came to their death. The authorities are by no means idle since their negligence at first was made public. The inquests will probably be continued the public. The inquests will propably be continued the last of next week, when the evidence in both cases will be heard. It is probable that the identity of the woman will never be kno wn. The story that she was Fannie Danham seems almost to have been lost sight of in the last few days, although the authorities, it is said are following up that elew. By order of Acting Coroner S. G. Garretson, both bodies were buried in the ground belonging to the city in Alpine Cemetery yesterday by the undertable frederick Fox.

> Me FUSION OF OIL PIPE LINES. W. [BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1.-President Gowen. f the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company, stated to-day in conversation with a representative of THE TRIBUNE that all statements to the effect that the Standard Oil Company has secured control of the Ti ewater Pipe Line Company are absolutely untrue. He ex-plained that the statements have arisen from the fact that the two companies were exchanging business and working the two companies were exchanging business and working in harmony. Mr. Gowen stated that all efforts of the Standard to possess the Tidewater having falled, they had proposed to the latter to pool business with them, and this was now being done to the advantage of both. He further stated that there was no prospect of the Standard over getting control of the Tidewater, as a majority of its stock was controlled by the Reading Railroad Company and placed with him as trustee.

EVANS AND CRUMBAUGH.

THE COMMISSIONER THREATENED. HE RECOMMENDS THE SUSPENSION OF THE COL-LECTOR-THE CASE STATED.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 .- Commissioner Evans has urgently recommended the suspension from office of Major S. R. Crumbaugh, the Kentucky collector of Internal Revenue who aspires to be Secretary of the Navy, and who, according to an official report submitted to Secretary Folger by Commissioner Evans a fortnight ago, by the use of official "penalty "envelopes evaded the payment of postage on certain personal and confidential letters written to gentlemen begging them to assist bim in his ambition. The official report of Controller Evans concludes as follows: "With this statement of facts, Mr. Secretary, it is submitted whether the plea of the collector, that the of the official envelopes in transmitting his private letters was accidental in so many instances, is sustained. There are rumors that the collector has used such envelopes in his correspondence with other persons; but there is much trouble in obtaining any definite informa-tion upon the subject. 1 am not sure that it is appropriate for me to express an opinion upon the evidence make any other suggestions upon it. Because of that doubt I abstain from doing so."

THE COLLECTOR COMBATIVE. Collector Crumbangh is not the man to yield without a fight and to his influence Commissioner Evans attributes a paragraph published in The Courier-Journal of yesterday. This paragraph, which Mr. Evans declares to be "an infamous outrage and falsehood," sets forth that he obtained the appointment of his father-in-law, Mr. Gowen-a wild youth, was made assistant postmas-ter; that sometime afterward a valuable registered puckage disappeared; that a post office inspector investigated the matter and became convinced that young Gowen was the guilty person; that the in spector was induced by representations respecting the relationship of Gowen to Commissioner Evans to hush the matter up upon the return of the money; that Revenue Agent Clark informed Commissioner Evans of all the circumstances; that Collector Crumbaugh, who had become cognizant of the transactions, who had become cognizant of the transactions, did the same in a letter to the Commissioner, in which he said that, as a sworn efficer of the Government, be feit it to be his duty to communicate to the proper efficials the facia in regard to the suppressed robery; that he failed to do so and it "worried bim a great deal, and he kept saying he should make a clean breast of t and tell the whole story to the proper authorities." Major Crumbangh, it appears, waited until after his trail and acquittal on the charge of using "penalty" envelopes for his private correspondence before making "a clean breast of it."

A THREATENING LETTER. In the meantline, however, he wrote to Internal Revenue Agent Clark, who is no intimate friend of Commisstoner Evans, the following letter dated September 26 :-"This letter will be plain. I have just been informed that J. Z. Moore, of this city, is in Washington, trying to be Collector of this District. You had just as well let Evans know that if he puts me

"I did hear that Postmaster Gowen's son had been aspected of something wrong, growing out of his intenerate habits, and I at once wrote his father, advising into descarge his sen from the office. He did so. It was ally after this that I heard that a post office inspector in threatfacted the case and that the matter ad been satisfactorily adjusted—precisely how never knew—and in the midst of my work rer I forgot all about it, until the receipt of rumbungh's threatening letter, which I properly resided as an attempt at blackmail. Crumbungh was specially zealous in urging Mr. Gowen's appointment as attenator. The only motive I had in getting the son out especially realous in urging Mr. Gowen's appointment as postmaster. The only motive I had in setting the son out was to make sure that no discredit was brought upon the office or upon the President's choice. I knew nothing of the guilt or innocence of the young man. I made no statement, directly or indirectly, that any Post Office inspector would be protected in any report he might make, nor did I ever suppose such a thing was increasing or desirable. I should add that Mr. J. Z. Moore is a most worthy gentleman and I know nothing discreditable in his conduct as register in Bankruptcy."

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Washington, Nov. 1.-In order to preserve and regintain the National bank note circulation, New, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, suggests the one of fifty years' 3 per cent bonds to the amount of say $500,000,000, into which the 4 and 412 per cents shall be convertible, the bends to be used as a basis for elreula-tion. Mr. New believes that such bonds would be eagerly sought by the National banks for that be cagerif sought by the National banks for that purpose and that all fears for the safety and permanency of the National banking system would be removed. He argues that the generation which expended hundreds of thousands of lives and seven billions of money to put down the Rebellion ought not to be required to pay the whole of the National debt, but that a reasonable amount should be left at interest to be paid fifty years hence.

MURDERED FOR HIS MONEY,

A RICH ENGLISHMAN KILLED AND ROBBED BY A WOMAN.

The prisoner, who is twenty-one years old, is a handsome brunctic. She is well educated, and has moved in the best society in New-York City and New-Jersey. She met Bothemly, a rich Englishman and a member of the British Association, at St. Louis and arranged with him to go to Texas and start a sheep ranch. Before they started she got a deed for his lands in Kansas, valued at $20,000, she got a deed for his lands in Kansas, valued at $20,000, and while passing through Indian Territory on their journey to Texas she shot Hothemly through the head. She then took possession of his trunk containing diamonds and jewelry worth $7,000, together with his out-fit, consisting of sheep and stock worth $10,000. She buriest the body at Skelston Enneh and started South, but was arrested about nine miles from where the murder was committed. The case has been in the hands of U.S. Marshal Hellister and Charles Halton, assistant U.S. Attention

STARVING ON AN ISLAND.

KEY WEST, Nov. 1 .- Captain Adams, of the schooner Henry Dennison, reports that on passing Swan Island, October 24, his vessel was boarded by a boat seeking provisions. The island people, fourteen in number, had nothing to subsist upon but cocoanuts. Wild hogs live there, but no amunition was had with which to shoot them. Captain Adams supplied them with pro-visions, probably enough to last ten days. This compelled him to put in here. The people were expecting a vessel from Baltimore with provisions, but she was very much overdue. If no sall passed since the Dennison left the Island, Captain Adams says the people must be nearly

MAYOR LOW'S CANVASS.

SWEDISH REPUBLICANS ENTHUSIASTIC.

A MEETING AT MUSIC HALL ADDRESSED BY MR

A meeting in the interest of Mayor Low was held in the Music Hall, Brooklyn, last night, under the auspices of the Swedish Republican Club of that city. The was well filled. The Scandinavians were there in great force, and showed that they could grow just as enthusiastic over the Low as men of more excitable nationalities. The Mayor received the same warm reception that has greeted him at every meeting at which he has spoken. General C. T. Christensen presided. After a brief introductory address, in which he urged the necessity of work as well as enthusiasm, he introduced Mr. Low, who, with his usual straightforward candor, spoke briefly. He said:

I hope you won't forget that with the Mayor is to be chosen next Tuesday a Board of Aldermen, and X hope that if you elect me for Mayor you will elect with me the Aldermen who stand upon the platform I stand on. On one side you are offered the choice of a partisan Mayor and a partisan Board of Aldermen, and on the other side a non-partisan Board of Aldermen, and on the other side a non-partisan Mayor and a nen-partisan Board of Aldermen. You know that the Alderman is he was changed last year so that instead of electing one Alderman from each of the twenty-live wards the next Board of Aldermen will consist of inheteen members-four chosen from each Aldermanic district and seven elected as Alnermen-at-Large by the whole city. From the districts there will be eight bemocrats in the next Board and four Republicans. When the Republican City Convention, before it had any candidates in the field, adopted a platform of non-partisanship—that local and city aftairs-bould be separated from State and National alfairs—they proceeded to show their good failth by nominating a sentleman who was already the clitzens' candidate for Mayor and placing him upon that platform. Then they put into the field seven Aldermen-at-Large, four who were Democrats and three who were Republicans in National politics. That is non-partisanship in its fairest form. The Democrats have pursued a different course, Will it not be safer with a city government where the majority is 15 to 4, which will be the case if the Democratic Aldermen will have to pass upon the charter of the railroad that is to give this city rapid transit. Now the platform of the local Democracy affirms that rapid transit is a necessity. They also speak in favor of party responsibility and management of that sort A word on that question of party responsibility and management of that sort A word on that question of party responsibility. The gentleman on the other side as well as enthusiasm, he introduced Mr. Low, who, with his usual straightforward candor, spoke briefly. He said:

Proofs multiply that, in the words of Mr. Beecher, "Brooklyn is not a fool," Every attack made on the Mayor has resulted in the injury of the man making it. A desperate attempt has been made to show that Mayor Low's efforts to hasten the completion of the Bridge did no good to the city. No one can tell now long the completion of the structure would have been postponed if Mayor Low had not bent his A STOCK SHOW IN KANSAS CITY.

The interest saved to Brooklyn by hastening the completion of the Bridge by one year would amount to almost a million of dollars. This saving is due to Mayor Low's efforts, and for what he did he is now bitterly opposed by many of the trustees. Their interest in delaying the completion of the structure, it is said, was largely on account of the scheme to run the Long Island Railroad cars, and those of the connecting roads to Coney Island, over the Bridge to this city. They hope now to defeat Mayor Low and get a Mayor who will lend himself to the scheme, and not look first to the interest of satisfactory.
